Publication dates	30 March

Formed in May 1994 as an independent charitable trust

The Trust's objectives are to raise awareness of the value of historic open green spaces throughout Greater London and to conserve and enhance them for the education and enjoyment of the public.

The Trust offers practical assistance for specific projects, where public benefit can be assured, by giving specialist advice and support to local groups for research, survey, design and management plans which promote the conservation of historic gardens and parks.

Members of the Trust are professionals working in research, teaching and management of open spaces within the heritage/historic environment sector. They include landscape architects, garden designers, garden historians, senior academics, garden researchers, planners, park managers, head gardeners, charity managers, journalists, press and PR. They also include owners of gardens both large and small, and others who have an interest in maintaining London's parks and gardens.

Summer Autumn/Winter 31 August 30 November

Frequency and Circulation

The London Parks & Gardens Trust's tri-annual newsletter London Landscapes is published in April, August and December each year. It is dispatched to all members of the Trust and used as a source of information. London Landscapes also has a wide circulation amongst Heritage Organisations, Local Authority Conservation Departments, Libraries, Museums, Societies, National Trust Gardens and County Garden Trusts.

The Opportunity

London Landscapes offers advertisers an opportunity to directly target this unique specialist marketplace consisting of 2000 professionals, individuals and groups who are actively involves in planning, maintaining and restoring London's parks and gardens.
